

Queensland Rovers
CHALLENGE YOURSELF

Basic Outdoor Skills Explained

To complete your Basic Rover Training, you need to complete the Basic Practical Course (Rovers), and the Basic Outdoor Skills Course.

The Basic Outdoor Skills Course is a Single Night weekend Course, where you cover off all the basics of doing Outdoor Scouting, such as Navigation, Bushwalking, Caring for the Environment, and Camping Skills.

If you have been in the movement for a while though, and have come through from Venturers, you are able to apply for RPL as an alternative, and skip the physical course.

The requirements for RPL and the physical course are listed overleaf.

For more information, contact the QBRC Training Officer at training@qldrovers.org.au

Queensland Rovers
CHALLENGE YOURSELF

Physical Course and RPL Requirements

Regardless if you are attending the physical course or applying for RPL, there are 11 eLearning Modules to be completed, that will cover off all the required content. You also need to complete the Basic Outdoor Skills Assessment of Proficiency Document, which is available on the eLearning system.

Physical Course

Complete an A15 Leader Training Application for the next Basic Outdoor Skills Course that you can attend, and pay the Course Fee. Bring along the BOS Proficiency booklet filled out.

Recognition of Prior Learning

Complete all the BOS Course eLearning, then attach a detailed Logbook of Outdoor Activities that you have participated in, include the BOS Proficiency Booklet, and email to training@scoutsqld.com.au, with the subject line "RPL for Basic Outdoor Skills Course - J Bloggs 12345", where J Bloggs 12345 is your name and member number. They will advise if more detail or evidence is required. There is a cost associated with doing RPL within Scouting.

For more information, contact the QBRC Training Officer at training@qldrovers.org.au